INTRODUCTION

Children learn best by doing. Allowing children to take an active part in food preparation increases:

- Knowledge of math, science and reading
- Improves social skills and manners
- Understanding of where food comes from
- The likelihood to taste and enjoy all foods
- Understanding and improving the child care environment

TIPS FOR COOKING WITH CHILDREN

- Be prepared. Have all ingredients laid out with needed equipment.
- Use plastic utensils to guard against breakage.
- Use aprons or towels tied around the waist to keep children clean.
- Take a moment to explain the ground rules and project.
- Start the activity by everyone washing his or her hands.
- Demonstrate how to use a knife properly and always supervise.
- Do not include a cooking activity that is “deep fried.”
- If using stove top burners, ovens, or other equipment that will be hot, demonstrate how to use potholders and stay clear of the heat.
- Place electrical cords where children cannot trip over them.
RECIPIES

These recipes satisfy the snack components and creditable food/beverage items of the CACFP, for children one through five years of age. Refer to the USDA Food Buying Guide (FBG) for Child Nutrition Program and the Crediting Handbook for the Child and Adult Care Food Program to serve the correct amount per service for each age group and requirement specifications for creditability.

KEY

- Involve Children in Preparation
- Good Source of Iron
- Low in Fat

CACFP MEAL PATTERN REQUIRES:
Fluid pasteurized milk is the only creditable milk item for the milk component in child care. Milk is required at breakfast and lunch/supper in child care. Children ages 12 months through 23 months must be served whole unflavored milk. Children age 2 years through 5 years must be served fluid pasteurized nonfat (skim) or low-fat (1%) unflavored milk. Children 6 years and older may be offered low-fat or nonfat flavored milk. Milk will contain vitamins A and D that is consistent with state and local standards. At the snack meal, milk is optional as one of the two components for a reimbursable meal.
